

Fathers and Sons Logic

Through the ages and around the world sons have called their fathers by many different names. Carter, David, Felix, and Will each use a different name for their father. Based on the clues decide which name each person uses: Dad, Daddy, Father, or Papa.

1. None of the boys calls his parent a name that starts with the same letter as his own name.
2. Carter said, "I wouldn't want to use 'Father' or 'Papa'."
3. All the boys use a parent name that has the same number of syllables as their own name.

	Dad	Daddy	Father	Papa
Carter
David
Felix
Will

Use the grid, if you would like, to eliminate possibilities. Put an "x" in a box if you know a father's name doesn't go with a boy. Put an "o" if you know it does.
